INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Code in the Schools!

We're happy to have you on the team! This handbook is intended to provide information about the policies and procedures that guide the day-to-day practices of our organization as well as to define basic employee benefits. If anything is unclear, please discuss the matter with the Chief Operating Officer. You are responsible for reading and understanding this handbook, and adhering to these policies.

These policies apply to all work-related settings and activities, whether inside or outside the workplace, and includes work-related trips and social events. Code in the Schools' property (e.g. computers, phone, work email, Slack accounts, and overall Internet access) may not be used to engage in conduct that violates these policies. Code in the Schools' policy against harassment covers employees and other individuals who have a relationship with Code in the Schools, which enables the organization to exercise some control over the individual's conduct in places and activities that relate to CITS's work (e.g. directors, officers, contractors, vendors, volunteers, etc.).

From time to time, the information included in this handbook may change. Every effort will be made to keep you informed through suitable lines of communication. This handbook will be reviewed on an annual basis and updated as needed.

We remain deeply committed to serving youth throughout Baltimore City and Maryland. Our highly qualified and professional staff has done an excellent job of making Code in the Schools a well-respected name in the provision of computer programming education for youth.

We hope that you will share our enthusiasm and desire to see our organization prepare the youth of our city to be active participants in the growing technology sectors with continued dedication and professionalism.

Once again, thank you for being on our team. We wish you every success!

DISCLAIMER

THE POLICIES, PROCEDURES AND BENEFITS IN THIS HANDBOOK DO NOT CONSTITUTE A CONTRACT NOR ARE THEY INTENDED TO CREATE ANY CONTRACTUAL COMMITMENTS BY CODE IN THE SCHOOLS WHATSOEVER. CODE IN THE SCHOOLS RESERVES THE RIGHT TO UNILATERALLY REVOKE, CHANGE, OR SUPPLEMENT THEM AT ANY TIME WITHOUT NOTICE. NOTHING IN THIS HANDBOOK IS A GUARANTEE OF CONTINUITY OF BENEFITS OR RIGHTS. NO PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT, OR EMPLOYMENT FOR ANY TERM, IS INTENDED OR CAN BE IMPLIED BY OR INFERRED FROM STATEMENTS IN THIS HANDBOOK.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE OF CODE IN THE SCHOOLS

Code in the Schools (CITS) is a nonprofit(501(c)(3)) organization which requires a Board of Directors to play a crucial role in the governance of the organization. The Board consists of elected, volunteer individuals who are committed to the mission of the organization. Our Board members determine the mission of our organization, establish management policies and procedures, assure that adequate human resources and financial resources are available, and actively monitor the organization's management, financial, and programmatic performance.

Our Chief Executive Officer (CEO) is accountable for the overall success of the organization, including fundraising, programs, policies, and budget for Code in the Schools.

Our Chief Operating Officer (COO) is responsible for the successful management and operation of the organization, including delivery of programs, management of staff and finances, and all other aspects of conducting business.

Our Director or Operations manages all in school and out of school time relationships, supervises instructional staff in the context of those partnerships including time management and scheduling, and manages logistics and all non-instructional components of partner programs.

Our Director of Instruction manages instructional staff and all aspects of curriculum and professional development for in-school programs and out-of-school-time programs for grades pre-k through 8, including oversight of the Middle School Prodigy Program in partnership with the CITS Program manager. Responsibilities include instructor data collection, instructor observations and coaching, and the overall success of instruction in the classroom.

Our Programs Manager manages the high school and middle school Prodigy Programs including summer sessions (Codeworks/Scholar), plans and executes annual program events, and supervises recruitment of students and instructional staff. Works with industry partners on work-based learning activities for youth.

Our Technology Programs Manager manages all aspects of physical equipment for CITS as well as all projects and employees that involve closing the digital divide in Baltimore City. This manager also manages the tech help line that is utilized for Professional development and community members and partners that have been given or leant equipment from CITS.

Our Professional Learning Programs Manager manages planning and logistics for professional development workshops and for Baltimore City computer science educators participating in the Professional Learning Community (PLC) run by Code in the Schools. As well as, manage administrative duties and program and grant documentation.

Lead Instructors teach full time in school at partner sites as well as conduct curriculum development and professional development, supervising summer programs, and mentoring senior members of the instructional team.

Senior Instructors teach full time in school at partner sites as well as conduct curriculum research, assisting in professional development, supervising or assistant supervise summer programs, and mentoring junior members of the instructional team.

We also employ full time instructors and part time instructors. Instructors teach assigned programs under the supervision of the above managers and are also expected to substitute when necessary for other instructors.

GENERAL POLICIES

EMPLOYMENT "AT WILL"

It is the intention of CITS to hire, train and retain employees in order to provide exceptional service to our community now and for the foreseeable future. CITS does not enter into contracts of employment, and neither this handbook nor any of its contents should be considered as an employment contract. Employment at CITS is "at will" and terminable "at will" by CITS with or without cause. Any oral or written statements or promises to the contrary are not binding upon CITS or the employee. Should any such statement be made suggesting that employment is other than "at will," the employee should advise the CEO.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CITS is committed to equal opportunity in employment and education and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, disability, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin, age, marital status, veteran status, genetic information or any other legally protected characteristic. CITS will not tolerate acts deemed to constitute discrimination or harassment based on any characteristic listed above and ones unlisted that are protected by the law.

ACCOMMODATIONS

CITS abides by all obligations under the Americans with Disabilities Act and State laws concerning employment of persons with disabilities. CITS will consider requests for reasonable accommodations by qualified individuals who identify themselves as disabled and in need of a reasonable accommodation in order to perform the essential functions of their jobs. Employees who believe that they have disabilities that require accommodation in order to permit the employee to perform the essential functions of the job should advise their supervisor. Accommodations that do not impose an undue hardship on CITS will be made.

ANTI-HARASSMENT AND ANTI-DISCRIMINATION POLICY

CITS does not tolerate harassment or discrimination in the workplace or in any situation that is work related (including social gatherings). Prohibited forms of harassment include sexual harassment and harassment on the basis of race, sex (including pregnancy), color, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin (including accent), religion, veteran status, marital status, disability, age, genetic information or any other legally protected characteristic. Prohibited harassment is considered to be misconduct and grounds for disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

CITS's policy against harassment covers employees and other individuals who have a relationship with Code in the Schools, which enables the organization to exercise some control over the individual's conduct in places and activities that relate to CITS's work (e.g. directors, officers, contractors, vendors, volunteers, etc.).

Harassment Generally: Harassment is defined as unwelcome or unsolicited comments or conduct that target a person and that is so severe or so pervasive that it interferes with an employee's job performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment. Some examples of what may be considered harassment, depending on the facts and circumstances, are the following:

Verbal Harassment --Derogatory or vulgar comments regarding a person. Verbal harassment also includes threats of physical harm.

Distribution of written or graphic material which could be viewed as offensive, vulgar or derogatory may also constitute harassment.

Physical Harassment -- Hitting, pushing or other aggressive physical contact, touching or threats to take such action may constitute harassment.

Sexual Harassment Defined: Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other physical, verbal, or visual conduct based on sex constitutes sexual harassment when 1) submission to such conduct is an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment; 2) submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as the basis for an employment decision; or 3) the conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment. This can include threats that are not carried out. A sexual advance is not needed for conduct to constitute sexual harassment. Threats, harassing remarks, insults, and demeaning behavior on the basis of gender is considered sexual harassment. Sexual harassment may also include explicit sexual propositions, sexual innuendo, suggestive comments, gender-based slurs, sexually oriented or gender-based "kidding" or "teasing," "practical jokes," jokes about gender-specific traits, and improper physical contact, such as patting, pinching or brushing against another's body. Sexual harassment may include verbal or physical conduct of a sexual or gender-based nature engaged in by a person of the same sex as well as of the opposite sex. Sexual harassment does not refer to occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature or welcome social relationships.

What to Do If You Believe You Have Been Harassed: If you believe you have been the subject of harassment, you should immediately bring the subject to the attention of the Director of Operations. If the DO is the source of the harassing conduct, or if for some reason you feel uncomfortable discussing the matter with the DO, you should contact the COO.

Why Complaints Are Important: Some conduct may not be perceived as harassment in the absence of a complaint, such as kidding around, jokes, or personal attention. CITS can only respond to concerns if we are aware they exist. We do not tolerate harassment, and do not want or expect employees who believe that they are being harassed to suffer in silence. Therefore, if you are exposed to offensive and unwanted conduct that you believe to be in violation of this policy, you should complain.

What CITS Will Do about Complaints of Harassment: CITS will investigate all incidents of harassment, and determine the appropriate remedy. Disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment, may be taken. CITS will discuss with the complainant the outcome of the investigation, and where appropriate may ask for feedback regarding the complainant's preferred resolution. CITS will also discuss the outcome of the investigation and any disciplinary actions with the alleged offender.

In conducting an investigation, CITS will respect the privacy of all concerned, however, complete confidentiality may not always be possible because of the need to conduct an investigation and take steps necessary to eliminate harassment.
No Retaliation for Complaining: This policy prohibits retaliation against any employee for raising in good faith a complaint or providing information concerning an alleged violation of this policy. Any person who is found to have taken adverse actions against an individual because he or she raised a complaint or provided truthful information during an investigation will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment.

If an employee makes a false or malicious complaint of harassment or discrimination, the employee will be the subject of appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination. However, an employee will not be disciplined because a complaint is not found to be harassment or discrimination.

VIOLENCE IN THE WORKPLACE

The safety and security of all employees is of primary importance at CITS. Threats, threatening and abusive behavior, or acts of violence against employees, visitors, clients, or other individuals by anyone on organization property will not be tolerated. Violations of this policy will lead to corrective action up to, and including, termination and/or referral to appropriate law enforcement agencies for arrest and prosecution. CITS reserves the right to take any necessary legal action to protect its employees.

You are responsible for notifying the CEO and/or the COO of any threats that you witness or receive or that you are told another person witnessed or received. Even without a specific threat, you should report any behavior you have witnessed that may be regarded as potentially threatening or violent or which could endanger the health or safety of an employee or student, if the behavior has been carried out at CITS, at a partner site, or any other entity/event that is connected to the organization's employment or business. You are responsible for making this report regardless of the relationship between the individual who initiated the threatening behavior and the person or persons being threatened.

HIPPA COMPLIANCE

Under the regulations of the Health Insurance Portability and Privacy Act (HIPPA), the confidentiality of each employee's personal medical information is of utmost importance to Code in the Schools. CITS will make every attempt to maintain such confidentiality at all times.

Any and all medical information with regard to an employee is deemed to be STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL and will be given only when absolutely necessary (Worker's Compensation, Health Insurance, etc.) and in full compliance with the provisions of HIPPA.

All medical information is kept in confidential files with access strictly limited to admin staff members who have a legitimate reason to access such information.

GENERAL CITS EMPLOYEE INFORMATION

CONFIDENTIALITY

CITS considers certain information to be confidential and/or proprietary. Such information should not be communicated without proper authorization from the CEO, or the Board as appropriate. Confidential information includes but is not limited to: school personnel contact information, school files, donor information, donor files, fundraising files, human resource files, and financial records. Ask your supervisor if clarification is needed. When discussing or transmitting confidential information, please follow these guidelines:

Do not reveal any confidential information except under the direction and with the approval of your supervisor;

Make sure that confidential information is properly marked and secured before transmittal;
Ensure that the recipient of the confidential information has a legitimate need to know the information;

Avoid displaying confidential data where it can be easily observed, including on your computer screen when you are not at your desk;

Immediately inform your supervisor of the loss of any confidential data;
Limit reproduction and distribution of such information;
Secure confidential documents in locked cabinets or containers when not in use;
Make sure that you shred all confidential information; and Do not release or post any confidential information via social media (Twitter, Facebook, blogs, etc.)

Do not remove any confidential information from the organization's office without specific authorization to do so. Before you leave employment at CITS, return all confidential and sensitive information directly to your supervisor.

IMMIGRATION AND EMPLOYMENT ELIGIBILITY

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, Code in the Schools will hire only those individuals who are authorized to work in the United States. Each new employee, as a condition of employment, must complete the Employment Eligibility

Verification Form (I-9) and present documentation establishing identity and employment eligibility. Former employees who are rehired must also complete the form if they have not completed an I-9 with CITS within the past three years, or if their previous I-9 is no longer retained or valid. Employees who are found to have falsified these documents may be terminated

PERSONAL BELIEFS AND PARTISAN POLITICAL ACTIVITY

CITS recognizes that you may hold a wide range of personal beliefs, values, and commitments. These beliefs, values, and commitments are a conflict only when they prevent you from fulfilling your job responsibilities. This conflict includes using CITS's time and facilities for furthering your personal beliefs, values, and commitments, or if you continue to attempt to convince others of your personal beliefs after you have been asked to stop. As an employee of a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization, you may not use your organizational authority to coerce or attempt to command or advise another employee to pay or contribute anything of value for political purposes.

SMOKING POLICY

Smoking is prohibited in CITS's offices or at CITS sponsored events to enable employees to work in a smoke free work environment.

DRUG AND ALCOHOL FREE WORKPLACE

CITS employees are expected to report to work in a fit condition to perform your duties. Being under the influence of drugs or alcohol is not acceptable. CITS prohibits the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use or abuse of illicit drugs, alcohol, or prescription drugs if used in a way that is illegal. You will not be terminated for voluntarily seeking assistance for a substance abuse problem. However, performance, attendance, or behavioral problems may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

Many visitors come to our office throughout the year. Accordingly, it is important to maintain a business- like appearance, avoiding extremes in attire in the office while serving our organizational partners in the community.

The key guideline: Dress in a manner that reflects well on our organization. Certain attire is prohibited during work hours. Such items include, but are not limited to bathing attire, beachwear, short-shorts, and sweatpants. You may wear casual clothing when you are not seeing any organizational partners. In addition to the CITS dress code, all CITS employees located on school sites are required to respect any dress codes that are required by the school. CITS also expects you to keep your workstations and work areas as orderly as possible.

DOCUMENT RETENTION

CITS requires that employees and members of the Board of Directors are aware of the requirements for (1) retention and maintenance of documents necessary for the proper functioning of the organization as well as to comply with applicable legal requirements and (2) destruction of documents which no longer need to be retained.

The CEO is responsible for: (1) administering the policy; (2) documenting the actions taken to maintain and/or destroy organization documents and retaining such documentation; and (3) developing reasonable procedures for document retention and recovery in the case of an emergency. CITS has a duty to preserve (or halt the destruction of) documents once litigation, an audit or a government investigation is reasonably anticipated. The CEO is responsible for immediately notifying the Board of Directors and staff of pending litigation, audit or government investigation and directing the suspension of any document destruction.

General guidelines for the retention of employment, contractual, and financial documents that should be retained, and the period of retention, are set forth below.
In general, documents that are not subject to a retention requirement should be kept only long enough to accomplish the task for which they were generated.

GRIEVANCES/COMPLAINTS

Employees who have a job-related problem, question, or complaint should bring it to the attention of the DO and fill out an Incident Report, which is found in the forms section of this handbook. If the employee and DO do not resolve the problem, or if the employee does not feel comfortable speaking with the DO, he/she may contact the COO. If the COO has a grievance or complaint it may be brought to the CEO or Chairman of the Board. If the grievance involves the Chairman of the Board it may be brought to the Vice-Chairman.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

All employees shall act with honesty and integrity, avoiding actual or apparent conflicts of interest in personal and professional relationships. A "conflict of interest" exists when an individual's private interests interfere or conflict in any way (or even appear to interfere or conflict) with the interests of the Authority. Actual or apparent conflicts of interest shall promptly be called to the attention of the CEO or the Chair of the Board if the concern relates to the CEO.

ACCOUNTING/FINANCIAL INFORMATION

CITS's accounting records are relied upon to produce reports to management, creditors, governmental entities, and others. All accounting records, and reports produced from these records, must be kept and presented in accordance with applicable laws. They must accurately and fairly reflect, in reasonable detail, CITS's income, cash flow, assets and liabilities and financial condition. "Reasonable detail" means the level of information and degree of assurance that would satisfy a prudent person in the conduct of his or her own affairs.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

Any member of the staff, member of the Board of Directors, or volunteers affiliated with the organization with information about known or suspected financial improprieties or misuse of the organization's resources, or other ethical problems is encouraged to report their concerns to the Executive Director. In the event that the allegations involve the CEO, the Chair with the assistance of the Executive Committee will investigate. The sources of reports about financial improprieties and misuse of organization's resources will be held in confidence unless the individual who reports the situation agrees to reveal his/her identity or the report leads to legal actions and a court order is issued for information regarding the case.
If any employee reasonably believes that some policy, practice, or activity of CITS is in violation of law, a written complaint may be filed by the employee with the CEO. If the complaint involves the Executive Director the employee should contact the Chair of the Board. Contact information for the Board can be found in the CITS Staff Contact List in the Instructional Team Drive.

It is the intent of CITS to adhere to all laws and regulations that apply to the organization, and the underlying purpose of this Policy is to support the organization's goal of legal compliance. The support of all employees is necessary to achieving compliance with various laws and regulations. An employee is protected from retaliation only if the employee brings the alleged unlawful activity, policy, or practice to the attention of CITS and provides CITS with a reasonable opportunity to investigate and correct the alleged unlawful activity. The protection described below is only available to employees that comply with this requirement.

CITS will not retaliate against an employee who, in good faith, has made a protest or raised a complaint against some practice of CITS, or of another individual or entity with whom CITS had a business relationship, on the basis of a reasonable belief that the practice is in violation of law or a clear mandate of public policy.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORTING OF FINANCIAL IMPROPRIETY OR MISUSE OF ORGANIZATION'S RESOURCES

Any member of the staff, member of the Board of Directors, or volunteers affiliated with the organization with information about known or suspected financial improprieties or misuse of the organization's resources, or other ethical problems is encouraged to report their concerns to the CEO who will then investigate. In the event that the allegations involve the CEO, reports should be made to the Treasurer who will investigate. The sources of reports about financial improprieties and misuse of organization's resources will be held in confidence unless the individual who reports the situation agrees to reveal his/her identity or the report leads to legal actions and a court order is issued for information regarding the case.

NO SOLICITATION & NO DISTRIBUTION POLICY

Solicitation or distribution of literature by any non-employee on CITS property is prohibited at all times. Solicitation by an employee of another employee is prohibited while either person is on working time. Working time includes all time that employees are expected to be engaged in work tasks, but excludes meal periods or scheduled breaks.

Employees are not permitted to distribute literature such as brochures, booklets, pamphlets, and fliers, during work time or at any time in the CITS offices.

GIFTS FROM PERSONS/FIRMS DOING BUSINESS WITH CITS

Employees are not permitted to accept gifts from persons or firms doing business with CITS.

CONSULTING AND HONORARIA

If you are asked to consult with others or to speak at a conference as a representative of CITS, you must obtain prior approval from the CEO. All monetary compensation you earn as a representative of CITS shall be paid to CITS. This includes, but is not limited to, compensation paid for speaking engagements, written work, and attendance at events.

OUTSIDE BUSINESS INTERESTS

You may have outside business interests or outside employment so long as it does not interfere with your job performance or otherwise create a conflict of interest or an appearance of a conflict of interest. Improper outside activities include, but are not limited to: working for a competing organization or business; using CITS time, facilities or equipment to engage in another business or occupation; engaging in an outside activity which results in you losing time from work, presents the appearance of a conflict, or distracts you from performing satisfactorily.

EMPLOYMENT OF RELATIVES

An applicant who is closely related to an employee is not normally eligible for employment in a position that would result in one family member directly reporting to or reviewing the performance of another. Exceptions require the advance approval by the CEO. "Closely related" is generally interpreted to mean spouse, life partner, parents, children, siblings, grandparents, in-laws, relatives through marriage, or members of the same household. Employees in a supervisory relationship who become related while working at CITS must end the supervisory relationship by resigning or transferring to an open position in another department unless approved by the senior management team.

NON-FRATERNIZATION

In order to promote efficiency and to avoid misunderstandings, perceptions of favoritism, morale problems, and possible complaints of harassment, all CITS employees at the supervisory level and higher are strictly prohibited from dating or pursuing romantic or sexual relationships with any employee under their supervision. In addition, all CITS employees are strictly prohibited from socializing with students while off duty without written parental permission and notification to the CEO. All CITS employees are strictly prohibited from dating or pursuing romantic or sexual relationships with any students.

EMPLOYEE REFERENCES AND RELEASE OF INFORMATION

While CITS understands your need to receive substantive references for new jobs and graduate school applications, CITS must also protect itself from lawsuits stemming from the provision of such references. Accordingly, CITS will provide substantive references only if you have signed a Waiver of Liability Regarding Reference Requests. If you do not sign the Waiver, the organization will only provide the following information:

- Confirmation that the individual was or is an employee of the organization
- The dates of employment

- Confirmation of the employee's salary and job title

No other information will be divulged.

After you have signed a Waiver, please inform anyone requesting a reference that they must do so in writing. No references will be given if the request was initiated by a phone call. Only someone in your supervisory chain can respond to a reference request; any other reference will be considered a personal, not an organizational, reference. You must give your supervisor a copy of the signed Waiver before your supervisor can give you a reference.

REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION

At times it may be necessary for you to ask us to confirm certain personal information for a bank loan, to a medical professional, or for some other personal business. Only an authorized staff member may respond to such inquiries. In such instances, the Director will, upon your written request, confirm wage or salary information that the employee has already provided. If the request is from a governmental agency, the employee must inform the COO who will decide how to respond to the request. If the employee is under criminal investigation, the employee will not be contacted regarding the request.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES

The building is equipped with manual pull stations to activate a fire alarm. The building fire alarm system is linked to the fire department. In the event of a fire alarm, do not assume it is a false alarm or a test. As good preparation for fire emergencies, you should acquaint yourself with the emergency exits to be used in case an evacuation is necessary.

In a fire emergency, go to the nearest exit stairwell - not the elevator - and walk down to street level. Find a safe place to stand; fire engines will pull up in front of the building shortly after the alarm sounds.

SECURITY PROCEDURES

Key Cards. You must use your key card to enter the building, to activate the elevators, and to enter locked suite doors. If special arrangements need to be made for a visitor who will not arrive during normal business hours, contact the COO. Contact the Partnerships Manager for a replacement of a lost or damaged key card. Key cards are generally only issued to administrative staff (defined as those employees who generally work in the office) and lead instructors.

Security System*.* The security system will be engaged by the last employee of CITS or Sparkypants to leave the office. It will be disengaged by the first employee to enter the office in the morning. If you enter the office outside of office hours, please be advised that the system will be engaged.

For security codes, you must contact a member of the administrative staff, as security measures dictate that codes may not be distributed in writing.

OFFICE ETIQUETTE

Facility and Equipment Problems. To report a building or equipment problem, contact the Partnerships Manager or COO.

Parking. While the City strictly enforces parking laws, some street parking is available. Please consult administrative staff for information on best options for parking in the vicinity of the office, as the situation changes with some frequency.

Kitchen and Refrigerators. All staff who use the office kitchen share responsibility to keep the area clean and organized. A cleaning schedule will be posted to ensure upkeep.

Personal Possessions*.* You may bring personal possessions to the office, but you do so at your own risk. Do not leave purses, keys, entry cards, etc., on the desktop or anywhere that they will be visible. CITS assumes no responsibility for replacing personal possessions that have disappeared.

Space Heaters*.* Space heaters are forbidden in the office building. Please contact the COO to address problems with the office temperature.

Other Tenants*.* CITS occupies the third floor of the building with another company, SparkyPants. The floor's lobby and bathrooms are shared, and SparkyPants oversees access cards and the alarm system. While doors are often propped open, SparkyPants is a separate organization, and their space and property should be respected as such. Because of the open ceiling between the offices, please be mindful of noise levels at all times.

CLASSES OF EMPLOYMENT

The following are the classes of employment that employees will be assigned to according to their job functions:

FEDERAL CLASSIFICATIONS

EXEMPT OR NON EXEMPT AND OVERTIME Federal and state laws exempt certain employees from the wage and hour laws which regulate minimum wages, overtime, and child labor.

Exempt employees' salaries are calculated on a weekly basis. Employees exempt from these laws are normally executive, managerial, administrative, professional, technical employees, or outside sales representatives. All other employees are considered non-exempt, and their salaries are calculated on an hourly basis.

Non-exempt employees will be entitled to overtime pay for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per workweek; overtime hours must be approved in advance by your supervisor.

You will be informed whether you are an exempt or non-exempt employee at the time of your hiring. If at any time you are uncertain of your status, please contact your supervisor.

CITS EMPLOYEE CLASSIFICATIONS

Full-Time Permanent or Temporary Exempt - those employees who are scheduled to work the standard 40 hours per week.

> Part-Time Permanent or Temporary Exempt - those employees who usually work less than 30 hours per week. Part-time permanent employees are eligible to receive PTO on a prorated basis but are not eligible to participate in benefit programs, unless otherwise approved to do so by the Board of Directors.
> Temporary/contractual employees who may be hired from time to time by CITS to perform duties which will extend over a limited period of time, are not eligible to accrue PTO or to participate in benefit programs.
> Interns are typically students who are employed by the Organization to enhance their professional education and to assess their potential for possible regular employment in the future. Interns may or may not be compensated at the Organization's sole discretion and are not eligible for Organization benefits.

EMPLOYMENT POLICIES FOR ALL EMPLOYEES

CRIMINAL BACKGROUND CHECK AND FINGERPRINTING

All CITS employees are required to undergo background checks and fingerprinting through Baltimore City Schools, an independent firm, or both before beginning work with students. Previous background checks will not be accepted. The fee for the background check shall be paid by the CITS by check or money order at the time the fingerprinting is performed.

Effective July 1, 2015, amendments to § 6-113 of the Education Article of the Maryland Code further require that a contractor or subcontractor for a local school system may not knowingly assign an employee to work on school premises with direct, unsupervised, and uncontrolled access to children, if the employee has been convicted of, or pled guilty or nolo contendere to, a crime involving a sexual offense, child sexual abuse and crimes of violence. It is the responsibility of the Consultant to make certain that its employees, agents, volunteers, and contractors who have contact with students be fingerprinted and have a background check incompliance with Title 5, Subtitle 5, Part VI, of the Family Law Article of the Maryland Code.

CITS is compliant with the Criminal Procedure Article of Annotated Code of Maryland Section 11-722 that states that a person who enters a contract with a City Board of Education or a nonpublic school may not knowingly employ an individual to work at a school if the individual is a registered sex offender. If a registered sex offender is employed by the Consultant, the Consultant is prohibited from assigning that employee to perform management, delivery, installation, repair, construction or any other type of services on any City Schools' property. Violation of this provision may result in Termination for Cause.

INTRODUCTORY PERIOD

Each new employee of CITS is expected to complete a three (3) month probationary period. The CEO may extend the probationary period when necessary. A probationary period does not modify the at-will nature of your employment.

The probationary period permits you to become familiar with your position and to demonstrate the skills, abilities, and work habits required for continued employment. During this period, you and your immediate supervisor are encouraged to establish goals, discuss all performance standards, and assess your progress. Immediate supervisors are responsible for documenting any performance deficiencies and problems during the probationary period, notifying employees of any such matters, and outlining ways to correct those deficiencies. You may be terminated at any time during the initial probationary period if, in the judgment of your supervisors, long-term employment at CITS would not be in your best interest or that of the organization. You will remain an employee-at-will (described in the beginning of this Handbook) regardless of your successful completion of the probationary period. Probationary status will affect your eligibility for benefits. During this period of time, you will accumulate paid time off but will not be eligible to use it until the probationary period is completed.

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

You and your supervisor should discuss your performance informally from time to time throughout the year. Your Supervisor will endeavor to formally review your performance with you on a yearly basis just prior to the close of the fiscal year (August 30). This review will take into consideration among other things, each employee's initiative, effort and attendance, knowledge of work, quality and quantity of work, attitude, teamwork and potential.

This review serves to help employees understand how their job performance compares to CITS expectations. It should include a discussion of the employee's interests and future goals. It is also a time to identify objectives for the upcoming year.

INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS

Innocent actions or behaviors can be misconstrued by others and can lead to false accusations. It is also important to note that CITS cannot indemnify a member of staff for their own acts. Once a person is accused and under investigation by law enforcement, they will receive no protection from CITS. For this reason, CITS has set forth the following policies for the protection of staff working with CITS participants. Any staff member who violates the following policies will face disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Never take a student out of the CITS location without permission. Taking a child out of a CITS-designated facility except in connection with an official function or program is prohibited and a serious violation of CITS policy. Any staff person taking a child out of a CITS-designated facility without authorization and/or consent of parent or guardian will be subject to immediate termination.

Never be alone in a closed area with a student. In the case that a student is left at a program location after operating hours, a minimum of two staff members should wait for the child to be picked up. As far as possible, staff need to stay within sight of others when working one-on-one with youth (tutoring, counseling, disciplining, etc.).

Never hold hands with youth, tickle or kiss them, allow youth to sit on your lap, or engage in other behavior that may be perceived as inappropriate. Only side hugs initiated by student are appropriate.

Some schools have strict no-touching policies. It is each employee's responsibility to familiarize themselves with their school's policy. Failure to do so may result in termination.

Never allow students in your personal vehicle without signed parental consent forms.

Never give students money or personal gifts.

DISCIPLINARY ACTION

It is important that all employees adhere to a consistent set of guidelines related to work performance, attendance, punctuality, and organization policies. Violation of any CITS policies, rules or guidelines, whether established by this handbook, by an employee's supervisor, or by other organization management may result in disciplinary action.

CITS has established a system of progressive disciplinary actions that may be taken with employees who have completed their probationary period for matters pertaining to the employee's conduct or job performance.

Depending on the seriousness of the offense, CITS may, at its sole discretion, utilize whatever form of discipline is deemed appropriate under the circumstances, up to and including immediate termination of employment. This policy of progressive discipline in no way limits or alters the at-will employment relationship, and Code in the Schools, at its sole discretion, may terminate an employee without following the progressive disciplinary procedure outlined here. When a problem in conduct or job performance does arise, your supervisor will coach and work with you to develop an effective solution. In the event of failure to respond or of an incident requiring formal discipline, the following steps may be taken:

Step One: Verbal Warning

Your supervisor will meet with you to verbally give you a warning by discussing the problem or violation with you, making sure that you understand the nature of the problem or violation, the expected remedy and a specified deadline (not to exceed six (6) months). Your supervisor will fully document the Verbal Warning and place it in your official personnel file where it will remain for six (6) months. If no additional disciplinary action is required, the Verbal Warning will be removed from your personnel file after six (6) months.

Step Two: Written Warning

If your performance does not improve within the specified period, or if you are again in violation of CITS standards of conduct, your supervisor will again discuss the problems with you, emphasizing the seriousness of the issue, the need for you to immediately remedy the problem and that you are now at the second level of formal disciplinary action. After the meeting your supervisor will write a memo to you summarizing the discussion and your agreement to address specific behaviors or performance issues by a specified deadline (not to exceed six (6) months). You will be required to sign the memo, indicating that you have read and understand the memo. Refusal to sign the memo will be grounds for termination. The signed copy of the memo will be placed permanently in your official personnel file.

For-Cause Suspension without Pay

If you commit any serious offense, you will be suspended without pay pending an investigation of the situation. If the investigation reveals your culpability for the offense, you may be terminated without any previous disciplinary action having been taken. Examples of such serious offenses, include, but are not limited to:

- Theft
- Falsification of CITS records.
- Failure to follow safety practices.
- Sexual Harassment allegation.
- Breach of Confidentiality Agreement.
- Threat of, or the act of doing bodily harm.
- Willful or negligent destruction of property.
- Use and/or possession of intoxicants, drugs or narcotics.

CONSECUTIVE UNAUTHORIZED DAYS OF ABSENCE

If you are absent for any reason and cannot come to work, you must notify your immediate supervisor. If you are absent without authorization for three consecutive workdays, the organization will consider you to have voluntarily resigned. A message left on an employee's or supervisor's voicemail generally does not constitute authorization for an unexcused absence.

Whenever an employee is absent without authorization for three consecutive workdays, the employee's supervisor must notify the COO and the CEO.

WORKING REMOTELY

In order to accommodate the needs of our employees, CITS will allow some employees in specific positions to work remotely and/or at home as long as it does not adversely affect the employee's productivity or the efficient operation of CITS. Some positions within the organization, by their very nature, do not lend themselves to remote work; for example, instructional positions that require instructors to teach on site during the school day. CITS will determine whether a specific job may be performed effectively off site and whether an individual is effective working without supervision at home.

At the sole discretion of your supervisor and/or the CEO, you may be allowed to occasionally work from an alternate location. Working from an alternate location should not be requested when a full or half day PTO is better suited for your needs (e.g. when your attention would be significantly occupied by other tasks such as supervising a home job or caring for someone who is sick (including yourself).

COMPENSATORY TIME

CITS does not routinely provide for compensatory time for employees with salaried "exempt" status that may make occasional modifications to their hours or schedules to compensate for personal reasons such as doctor's appointments.

The COO may approve compensatory time in the extraordinary event in which an employee is required to work more than 10 hours a day or 50 hours per week to meet business needs. Approved compensatory time must be used within 30 days of the period in which it was earned.

Contractual employees will be expected to complete work within the amount of time designated in their contract. If additional time is required, a new contract will need to be negotiated with the COO.

CORE WORK HOURS: ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

Administrative staff is required to maintain core work hours Monday through Friday 10 am to 3 pm, meaning that you are available and physically in the office during those hours. Exceptions require supervisor approval . The scheduling of the other 3 hours of the workday are at individual discretion based on requirements of role, for example some roles may require an early schedule (7 am to 3pm) or a later schedule (10am to 6pm). Administrative staff is expected to be available and responsive on Slack and email no later than 9am until at least 5pm Monday through Friday unless absence has been approved by supervisor. Some roles may require earlier or later communication availability.

TIME OFF: ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

Supervisor approval is required for all time-off requests. If you will miss regularly scheduled administrative hours for any reason (e.g. sickness, planned vacation, doctor's appointment, etc.), contact your supervisor with as much advance notice as possible for approval. If you would like to use accumulated PTO hours in order to be paid during your absence, you must indicate this on your timesheet.

ADMINISTRATIVE LEAVE

Administrative leave is a period of time during which an employee is relieved of his or her job while the organization reviews the circumstances and events that led to the administrative leave. An employee on administrative leave is paid for that period away from work. Only the CEO can place an employee on administrative leave, except in exigent circumstances, in which case a direct supervisor can exercise this authority.

INSTRUCTOR SPECIFIC POLICIES

TIME OFF: INSTRUCTIONAL STAFF

CITS is responsible for securing substitutes; the school is not. In the event that a substitute cannot be secured, it will be your responsibility to alert your site contact of cancellation.

PLANNED ABSENCES

All employees must submit time-off requests in advance to their supervisor for approval. Please follow these steps:

1. Find a substitute. If you will miss scheduled classes, you are responsible for arranging a substitute instructor. Send a slack to the general channel and/or reach out to other instructors individually. If you are having difficulty, please contact the Partnerships Manager for assistance.

If you work with a CITS partner instructor at your program site, inform your partner of your absence as soon as possible. If they are comfortable managing without you, inform the Partnerships Manager and no substitute is required. If they are not comfortable, you must find a substitute.

2. Fill out the Google Form with as much advance notice as possible to have, at least 7 days: https://goo.gl/forms/dOPViIVEoGnIYdEv2. With less than 7 days notice you risk not receiving approval for your absence.

3. Share substitute lesson plans at least 48 hours before planned absence. You must have a substitute lesson plan for each of your classes prepared in advance, so plans are available for a substitute. Always have your class schedule and plans accessible in the Instruction Team Google Drive so that you can quickly and easily share with your substitute. Please consult the Instructional Manager should you need help creating sub plans.

4. Notify site contact & site administrator, and inform of planned absence dates & substitute contact information.

5. Fill out the timesheet accurately.

UNPLANNED ABSENCES (emergencies or sudden illness)

Please follow the below steps:

1. Notify Partnerships Manager via Slack, text or phone call as soon as you know you will be absent.

2. Notify site contact and/or site administrator via text or email immediately and, if applicable, call the school office.

3. Find a substitute if you are able. Send a slack to the general channel and/or reach out to other instructors individually. If you are having difficulty or unable to due to emergency, please ask the Partnerships Manager for assistance.

4. Share substitute lesson plans. You must have a substitute lesson plan for each of your classes prepared in advance, so plans are available for a substitute on short notice. Always have your class schedule and plans accessible in the Instruction Team Google Drive so that you can quickly and easily share with your substitute. Please consult the Instructional Manager should you need help creating sub plans.

4. Fill out the Google Form when you are able: https://goo.gl/forms/dOPViIVEoGnIYdEv2.

5. Fill out the timesheet accurately.

LATE ARRIVAL TO PROGRAM SITE

You are responsible for knowing your program site's policy for late arrival. If you will arrive late to your program site, you must follow that policy and notify the Partnerships Manager within the same work day. Consistent tardiness and/or failing to notify the Partnerships Manager of tardiness will incur disciplinary action.

SUBMISSION OF WEEKLY OBJECTIVES AND LESSON PLANS (TBD)

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS INFORMATION

PAID TIME OFF

CITS offers all active employees Paid Time Off (PTO) which can be used at the employee's option for vacation, illness, child care or personal time. Active full-time employees accrue PTO at 6.16 hours per pay period. Active part-time employees accrue PTO at 1 hour for every 12 hours worked.

PTO begins to accrue at the time that an employee starts service.

Employees are eligible to use accrued PTO for scheduled vacation upon completion of their three month introductory period. PTO may be used prior to the completion of the introductory period for unscheduled needs such as illness of the employee or dependent.

Employees continue to earn PTO while on paid leave. PTO is not earned in pay periods during which unpaid leave, short- or long-term disability leave or workers' compensation leave are taken.

PTO Utilization
All employees must submit PTO leave requests in advance to their supervisor for approval. Once approved, employees must enter PTO hours in their timesheet for the corresponding day(s) taken.

PTO schedules will be coordinated to coincide with business priorities and to ensure adequate instructional and administrative coverage. For instructional staff, there are "blackout dates" when it is highly discouraged to take PTO. These are generally the first three weeks and the last three weeks of the school year and the days adjoining school breaks and long weekends. PTO will not be approved during these times except in extenuating circumstances.

CITS Holidays that occur during a period when an employee is on PTO are considered holiday hours, not PTO hours.

Spring Break for schools and programs does not constitute a holiday, and the office remains open. Instructional staff have the option of taking time off during this period, which requires PTO usage, or work in the office.

PTO Accumulation
CITS encourages employees to take all PTO during each year. However, employees may carry over up to 40 hours of accrued unused PTO to the next calendar year. Upon separation, an employee is not eligible to be paid for unused accrued PTO.

HOLIDAYS OBSERVED

CITS recognizes certain holidays and grants time off with pay on these days to active full-time employees. The administrative office is closed on these days. A day of holiday time off is equivalent to the hours normally worked on the day of the holiday. Observed holidays are as follows:

Martin Luther King Day
President's Day (Date of Federal Observance)
Good Friday (Friday before Easter)
Memorial Day (Last Monday in May)

Independence Day (July 4)
Labor Day (First Monday in September)
Thanksgiving Day (Fourth Thursday in November)
Day after Thanksgiving (Fourth Friday in November)
Christmas Eve
Christmas Day
New Year's Day

Winter break: The office is closed between Christmas and New Year's Day. This period constitutes a paid holiday for all active full-time employees.

Should your religious holidays are not represented here please speak to the COO regarding possible CITS observance of it.

Weather-Related Closures. CITS is concerned about the safety and well-being of all employees. At the same time, CITS is responsible for conducting quality programs and serving its organizational partners. In adverse weather conditions, local school district's work status is usually announced by 6:00 a.m. Further instructions will be available on the our #general Slack channel by 7:30 a.m. Always check with your site if you are unsure of delays and/or closings.

The organization will determine whether to delay administrative office opening/closing or grant liberal leave in conjunction with the local school district decision and subsequent announcements. Liberal leave is defined as an employee's ability, in the event of special environmental circumstances, to take PTO without requiring prior authorization from a supervisor. If the federal government announces that a liberal leave policy is in effect, CITS's office will open for business as usual. Essential personnel are required to report. Employees not reporting to work during liberal leave status will be charged PTO hours.

If the federal government closes with essential personnel required to report, the CITS office will close and only essential personnel are required to report. For the purposes of this policy, the term essential personnel is defined as those employees who have program-related responsibilities deemed necessary to serve our organizational partners on a daily basis. No PTO hours will be charged to employees who do not report. Up to eight hours of equivalent compensatory time will be granted to essential personnel who report to work. You may not combine compensatory time with the actual hours worked in qualifying for overtime compensation.

Emergency Closures. In the event of other emergency closings, such as electrical outages or flooding, CITS will use our #general Slack channel to announce whether the office is closed or liberal leave status is in effect, as determined by Management.

BEREAVEMENT LEAVE

CITS provides time off with pay for bereavement. A maximum of five consecutive working days may be taken in the event of the death of one of the following members of the employee's immediate family: spouse, children, foster children, step-children, parents, step-parents, foster-parents, legal guardians or others who took the place of parents of employee or spouse; brothers and sisters of the employee or spouse; grandparents and grandchildren of the employee or spouse; and other relatives living as a member of the employee's household.

Employees are asked to mark the time sheet for this time as "bereavement" in the drop down and on a separate line than the regular work hours.

If additional time is required by the employee, the COO shall make reasonable efforts to arrange the work so that the employee may take accrued PTO for this purpose.

JURY DUTY

Full-time CITS employees who are required to report for jury duty necessitating their absence from work will be paid for one day of jury service. If, after reporting for jury duty, it is determined that the employee's services are not required and the employee is dismissed from jury duty for the day, the employee shall report for work if time reasonably permits. An employee who is called for jury service must notify his/her Supervisor as soon as Notice to Appear is received.

Employees are asked to mark the time sheet for this time as "jury duty" in the drop down and on a separate line than the regular work hours.

MILITARY LEAVE

CITS allows employees unpaid leave from their jobs to perform military duties. CITS will conform to State and Federal law regarding military training, active service time and reinstatement rights.

FAMILY/MEDICAL LEAVE

CITS employees in good standing who have been employed by CITS on a full-time basis for at least 12 months may take up to twelve weeks of unpaid family or medical leave during any twelve month period for one or more of the following qualifying reasons:

- The birth and care of the employee's newborn child
- The placement with the employee of a child for adoptive or foster care

● To care for an immediate family member (spouse, child, parent) with a serious health condition
● To take medical leave when an employee is unable to work due to a serious health condition.

PTO will not accrue during any Unpaid Leave. The twelve weeks of Unpaid Leave may be taken on an intermittent and scheduled basis allowing the employee to work on a less-than-full-time schedule. PTO will accrue on a prorated basis according to the work schedule.

If an employee granted Unpaid Family or Medical Leave as described is covered by CITS health insurance, coverage will be maintained during the period of unpaid leave so long as the employee continues to contribute his/her share of the cost of the health insurance.

Before unpaid leave commences, the employee must use all accrued and unused leave. Family/Medical leave requires approval by the CEO.

PAID FAMILY LEAVE

Code in the Schools will provide up to 4 weeks of paid family leave to employees following the birth of an employee's child or the placement of a child with an employee in connection with adoption or foster care, and for qualifying medical events as defined by Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA). The purpose of paid family leave is to enable the employee to care for and bond with a newborn or a newly adopted or newly placed child, or care for a spouse or committed partner or dependant with qualifying medical issues. This policy will run concurrently with FMLA leave, as applicable. This policy will be in effect for births, adoptions or placements of foster children, and qualifying medical events as defined by FMLA.

Eligibility

Eligible employees must meet the following criteria:

- Have been employed with the company for at least 12 months
- Have worked at least 1,250 hours during the 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the date the leave would begin.
- Be a full-time, regular employee (temporary employees and interns are not eligible for this benefit).

In addition, employees must meet one of the following criteria:

- Have given birth to a child.
- Be a spouse or committed partner of a woman who has given birth to a child.
- Have adopted a child or been placed with a foster child (in either case, the child must be age 17 or younger). The adoption of a new spouse's child is excluded from this policy.

- Experience a qualifying medical event as defined by FMLA.

Amount, Time Frame and Duration of Paid Parental Leave

- Eligible employees will receive a maximum of 4 weeks of paid family leave per birth, adoption or placement of a child/children, or qualifying medical event. The fact that a multiple birth, adoption or placement occurs (e.g., the birth of twins or adoption of siblings) does not increase the 4-week total amount of paid family leave granted for that event. In addition, in no case will an employee receive more than 4 weeks of paid family leave in a rolling 12-month period, regardless of whether more than one birth, adoption or foster care placement, or qualifying medical event occurs within that 12-month time frame.
- Each week of paid family leave is compensated at 100 percent of the employee's regular, straight-time weekly pay. Paid family leave will be paid on a biweekly basis on regularly scheduled pay dates.
- Approved paid family leave may be taken at any time during the 6-month period immediately following the birth, adoption or placement of a child with the employee. Paid family leave may not be used or extended beyond this 6-month time frame.
- In the event of a female employee who herself has given birth, the 4 weeks of paid family leave will commence at the conclusion of any short-term disability leave/benefit provided to the employee for the employee's own medical recovery following childbirth.
- Employees must take paid family leave in one continuous period of leave and must use all paid family leave during the 6-month time frame indicated above. Any unused paid family leave will be forfeited at the end of the 6-month time frame.
- Upon termination of the individual's employment at the company, he or she will not be paid for any unused paid family leave for which he or she was eligible.

Coordination with Other Policies

- Paid family leave taken under this policy will run concurrently with leave under the FMLA; thus, any leave taken under this policy that falls under the definition of circumstances qualifying for leave due to the birth or placement of a child due to adoption or foster care, the leave will be counted toward the 12 weeks of available FMLA leave per a 12-month period. All other requirements and provisions under the FMLA will apply. In no case will the total amount of leave—whether paid or unpaid—granted to the employee under the FMLA exceed 12 weeks during the 12-month FMLA period. Please refer to the Family and Medical Leave Policy for further guidance on the FMLA.
- After the paid family leave (and any short-term disability leave for employees giving birth) is exhausted, the balance of FMLA leave (if applicable) will be compensated through employees' accrued sick, vacation and personal time. Upon exhaustion of accrued sick, vacation and personal time, any remaining leave will be unpaid leave.

Please refer to the Family and Medical Leave Policy for further guidance on the FMLA.

- The company will maintain all benefits for employees during the paid family leave period just as if they were taking any other company paid leave such as paid vacation leave or paid sick leave.
- If a company holiday occurs while the employee is on paid family leave, such day will be charged to holiday pay; however, such holiday pay will not extend the total paid family leave entitlement.
- If the employee is on paid family leave when the company offers administrative leave (known as an "admin day"), that time will be recorded as paid family leave. Administrative leave will not extend the paid family leave entitlement.
- An employee who takes paid family leave that does not qualify for FMLA leave will be afforded the same level of job protection for the period of time that the employee is on paid family leave as if the employee were on FMLA-qualifying leave.
- Please refer to the Adoption Benefit Policy for additional information about other employee benefits related to the adoption process.

Requests for Paid Family Leave

- The employee will provide his or her supervisor and the human resource department with notice of the request for leave at least 30 days prior to the proposed date of the leave (or if the leave was not foreseeable, as soon as possible). The employee must complete the necessary HR forms and provide all documentation as required by the HR department to substantiate the request.
- As is the case with all company policies, the organization has the exclusive right to interpret this policy.

HEALTH BENEFITS

CITS offers group medical, vision, and dental insurance plans for all eligible employees. Full-time employees are eligible to be covered under these plans from the first day of the month following their start date.

The specifics of these plans as well as the level of employee contribution will be explained at the time of the employee's eligibility for coverage.

Extended Coverage (COBRA)

An employee and/or dependent who loses eligibility for subsidized health benefits may receive extended coverage through the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1986 (COBRA). The employee and/or dependent may remain in the Health Benefits Plan on an unsubsidized basis for 18 to 36 months, depending on the circumstances. Enrolling in COBRA assures no break in health coverage.

WORKER'S COMPENSATION

All employees of CITS are covered under Workers Compensation Insurance for job-related injuries and occupational illnesses.

COMPENSATION

PAYROLL AND TIMESHEETS

Payroll is processed bi-weekly. The normal pay period for employees runs from Monday to Sunday of the following week. Completed timesheets are due by 5PM on the Monday immediately following the end of the previous pay period. Failure to complete your timesheet by the submission time may result in delayed payment.

Pay will be distributed by check or direct deposit on the Friday immediately following the timesheet due date. If that day is a holiday, you will receive your paycheck on the last workday preceding the holiday.

Payroll deductions are made for each employee reflecting benefit elections and normal taxes from each pay distribution. Benefit deductions for benefits which are paid for monthly will be deducted from the payments for the first two pay periods of the month. Benefits based on a percentage of pay and those which stipulate amounts to be deducted from each payment will be deducted from each pay.

Each employee is given access to a personal timesheet through which you will be expected to submit your hours. You must enter the appropriate amount of hours for the correct work site. If the appropriate work sites do not show up on your account, please contact your supervisor and/or the COO to update the worksites you have access to.

Falsification of your time sheet may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. For more detailed instructions on how and when to fill out timesheets, please speak to your immediate supervisor.

SOCIAL SECURITY

CITS will make the normal employer contribution to the Social Security Administration on the employee's behalf.

EMPLOYEE EXPENSE REIMBURSEMENTS

Work-related purchases may be reimbursed by the organization. These expenses can include but are not limited to class materials, supplies, professional development, and travel expenses. All expenses must be pre-approved by the COO before purchase. Once you have received confirmation on the validity of an expense, you may go directly to the Partnerships Manager for orders or reimbursements of the approved item.

Purchase Requests To make a purchase request, please slack the #equipmentandsupplies channel. Management will respond with information on acquisition of supplies.

Reimbursement To receive reimbursement, purchases must be pre-approved by your supervisor. It is up to the discretion of the COO and the CEO to deny reimbursement for any items that have not received pre-approval.

In order to receive reimbursement you must provide receipts. No reimbursements will be provided without valid receipts. In order to be considered valid, receipts must be legible and contain information that connects you to the expense. Confirmation emails of payments are considered valid receipts. Reimbursements will be applied to the payroll following submission of valid receipts.

Lyft/Uber/Zipcar reimbursements must be approved by the Partnerships Manager or COO in advance and are only to be used in emergency circumstances. In terms of mileage reimbursement, the current Standard Mileage Rates are 54.5 cents for every mile of business travel driven (see more information from the IRS). Mileage reimbursement can only be used from worksite to worksite (e.g. from CITS's office to one of our partner sites for instruction) or when specifically pre-authorized.

OWNERSHIP OF MATERIAL

All information that you write, develop, receive, or compile, including but not limited to publications, articles, speeches, reports, manuals, etc., during the performance of your duties at CITS automatically becomes CITS property, whether or not it is written, developed, or compiled in your home or in our offices, and whether done during business hours or during another time.

COMMUNICATIONS POLICIES

PHONE CALLS

Employees should limit the number and length of personal calls and texts during work hours. Please be considerate of those around you by keeping your ringtones professionally appropriate and voice at a reasonable volume. Employees should avoid making personal telephone calls using CITS or program site telephones.

SLACK

CITS uses Slack as its primary communication platform among individual coworkers and groups. Every CITS employee is responsible for using Slack properly and in accordance with the below Electronic Communications policy. Any questions about this policy should be addressed to the COO or Partnerships Manager.

It is imperative that every employee checks the Code in the Schools' Slack team for updates at frequently on work days, and if applicable, responds in a timely fashion. Along with being accessible on a web browser, Slack has desktop and mobile apps for easier and more effective communication.

GOOGLE SHARED DRIVES AND CALENDAR

Google Shared Drives contain files pertinent to different aspects of our business activities. You will be provided access to the Shared Drives relevant to your role. All employees have access to the *HR Documents folder within the Instruction Team Drive, which contains this handbook, the staff directory, benefits information, etc.

The Staff Google Calendar includes any events that pertain to all CITS employees, such as Staff meetings, birthdays, etc. The Staff Google Calendar can be found by going to calendar.google.com and pasting the following address into the "add a coworker's calendar" box: codeintheschools.org_dtvnil5hdk25k0db1j93af5ogs@group.calendar.google.com.

Every CITS employee is responsible for using Google Shared Drives and calendar properly and in accordance with the below policy. Any questions about this policy should be addressed to the COO.

ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS

CITS maintains Google Suite (Email, Calendar, Shared Drives, etc) and Slack platforms, a telephone system, computers, internet access and other business equipment (collectively called the "Systems") for the purpose of conducting the business of the organization. The devices and the data stored on these Systems, as well as the specialized software programs and systems developed for CITS use, are the sole property of CITS and must be protected appropriately.

In general, access to any Systems component is restricted to authorized users. An authorized user is someone, who in the sole opinion of CITS requires access in order to support business activities. You may not use an unauthorized access code or password, access files that you have no right to access, or disseminate confidential information that is derived from electronic or other sources, including stored communications. All passwords must be kept strictly confidential. You will be held accountable for work performed with your user ID or password. The existence of a password does not mean that any messages you send using a password will be confidential. CITS may monitor use of the Systems on a random or other basis to see that the Systems are being used for proper purposes.

You may not use any of these Systems for non-job related solicitations, organizational campaigns, political or religious causes. The Systems may not be used to transmit, retrieve, or store any communications of a defamatory, discriminatory, or harassing nature, or materials that are abusive, profane, or offensive, obscene or x-rated, including, but not limited to, messages with derogatory or inflammatory remarks about an individual's race, creed, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, nationality, marital status, age, genetic information, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law. Harassment of any kind is absolutely prohibited.

The Systems may not be used for any purpose, which is illegal, against CITS policy, or contrary to CITS's best interest. The email system may be used sparingly for personal communications and only provided that such use does not place an excessive or unreasonable burden on the System or its users.

CITS reserves the right to retrieve and read any messages sent or received via its communications systems. All messages created, sent, or retrieved over the Systems and any information of any type in any Systems component, including but not limited to, all information stored on CITS computers are the property of CITS and may be saved, accessed and reviewed by the organization. You cannot consider any message sent, received, or stored via these systems as your private property. CITS reserves the right to monitor, or download and read any electronic or telephone communication sent, received, or stored during the ordinary course of business. You are not permitted to read e-mail messages that are not sent to you unless you have obtained permission from the CEO to do so. You shall not transmit over the Systems any copyrighted materials belonging to any individual or entity other than CITS. When obtaining access to another organization's or individual's materials, you must respect all copyrights and may not copy, retrieve, modify, or forward copyright materials, except with permission of the holder of the copyright, or as a single copy to reference only. You may not violate any software licenses, including, but not limited to, making illegal copies of software. All software licenses, manuals, and documentation must be available for inspection in the event of a software inventory or audit. Failure to observe copyright or license agreements may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

SOCIAL MEDIA AND INTERNET USAGE POLICY

Social Media. The term "social media" refers to all means of communicating or posting information on the Internet, including but not limited to posting to a personal or public web log, blog, online journal or diary, personal website, social networking site, web bulletin board, or chatroom.

Personal Responsibility. Each individual is solely responsible for what he or she posts online. Inappropriate postings that may include unprotected discriminatory remarks, harassment, threat of violence, or similar inappropriate or unlawful conduct will not be tolerated and may subject such individual to disciplinary action.

Expectations. Individuals subject to this Policy are expected to conduct themselves online in a manner consistent with the conduct expected at work:

- Be Respectful. Each individual is expected to be fair and courteous to colleagues, board members, donors, grantees, and people who work on behalf of CITS or CITS's interests. Individuals should avoid using statements, photos, video, or audio that could reasonably be viewed as malicious, obscene, threatening, intimidating, or disparaging, or that might constitute harassment or bullying in violation of CITS's policies.

- Be Honest and Accurate. Each individual is expected to be honest and accurate when posting information or news. If a mistake is made, it should be quickly corrected. Individuals covered by this Policy should never post any information about CITS, board members, donors, grantees, or anyone working on behalf of CITS or CITS's interests that such individual knows to be false or cannot confirm.

- Be Clear and Transparent. No individual should ever represent themselves as a spokesperson for CITS without first getting clearance from the CEO. If an individual subject to this Policy posts content of which CITS is a subject, such individual must be clear and open about the fact that such individual must identify the relationship that they have with CITS and must make it clear that any such personal views do not represent those of CITS, the Board, donors, grantees, or anyone else working on or on behalf of CITS or CITS's interests.

CITS believes that it is inappropriate and unprofessional for any of our employees to have contact with any of our current minor students on any social media platform. Connecting with our minor students on any social media platforms may result in disciplinary action.

USE OF ISSUED ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT AND SYSTEMS

Use technology responsibly:

- Create strong passwords
- Keep them safe, and never sharing them
- Making limited personal use of CITS technology assets

- Keep to a minimum the transfer of any data, information, or software that is not intended for use in our operations to a CITS computer.

Incidental and occasional personal use of organization computers and our email systems is permitted, as long as not used excessively. Your occasional use of CITS's' computer facilities to type a term paper for an educational course or prepare an announcement for a charitable event is acceptable, as long as there are laptops available for classroom use. However, in order to keep these uses to a reasonable level, approval to use the system in such a manner must be given by your supervisor.

The Organization's equipment, such as the copier machine, is intended to be used for business purposes. You may only use this equipment for non-business purposes in an emergency and only with the permission of your supervisor.

However, as noted above, information and messages stored in these systems will be considered organizational records that are the property of CITS, which may be reviewed by the organization. Therefore the personal use of computer systems should not be considered by any employee to be private. Moreover, please be aware that CITS may purge files on its computer at any time, without notice.

The use of the system for such personal efforts must occur outside of business hours, and any files created are to be deleted at the end of the project. Also, because of the normal heavy load on the system, these outside projects will not receive priority over late evening operational requirements, system maintenance, or file backup.

No systems are to be removed from CITS premises at any time without the express permission from management. Employees shall comply with the restrictions of all copyrighted materials when using CITS Systems.

Prohibitions include:
Transmitting, retrieving or storing discriminatory or harassing materials
Transmitting, retrieving or storing any materials containing any sexual content
Computer games; many carry viruses so limit use
Introduction of non-approved software

Using the computer facilities for other than educational or charitable activities, following the procedures described above, is not permitted.

Upon termination of employment, the employee must return all Organization property, equipment, work product and documents in his or her possession or control.

EQUIPMENT AND MATERIALS PROCUREMENT POLICY

Borrowable items include but are not limited to:

- Physical property (including equipment and supplies ie. mice, keyboards)
- Computer systems, software, and electronic devices
- Classroom equipment (Makey Makey, Circuit playgrounds etc.)

As of [date], equipment may only be borrowed after completing the CITS Technology Check-Out form found on the forms page and approved by the CITS admin team. Acknowledgement of your form submission and approval will be sent by email to you by a member of the Admin Team.

As a borrower of a CITS laptop/Equipment, I accept the following responsibilities:

- I will follow the guidelines listed below for proper care of the laptop/Equipment.
- I will use the equipment for work or professional development purposes. I will not install any malicious software on the computer unless it has been approved by the Technology Programs Manger.
- I will not write on or place any labels or stickers on the laptop.
- I will not disable or uninstall the virus protection program that is provided with the machine.
- I will report any problems/issues I encounter while using the laptop to the Technology Programs Manager immediately.
- I will ensure any documents I create will be moved from the laptop upon return.
- I understand that the Technology Programs Manager will reimage the laptop at any point when it becomes unusable or unstable.
- Any modifications I make in the computer's settings will be for usability or cosmetic reasons only.
- All laptops must be returned at the end of the agreed upon time for inventory and software updates.
- Lost or damaged equipment will result in…
    - Borrowers are financially responsible for damage to equipment that was caused by abuse or negligence, including preventable theft.

Guidelines for Proper Care of the Laptop:

The equipment is not to be loaned to anyone.

Other individuals, including children, should not be allowed to play on the computer.

Proper care is to be given to the equipment at all times, including but not limited to the following:

a) Give appropriate care for any electrical device
b) Use a surge protector or unplug the laptop during electrical storms.

c) Keep food and drink away from the computer.
d) Do not leave the laptop or electronic equipment exposed to direct sunlight or extreme cold.

e) Position the equipment on a safe surface so it does not drop or fall.
f) Do not attempt to repair a damaged or malfunctioning laptop or equipment.
g) Do not attempt to upgrade the computer or software.

4. Proper security is to be provided for the laptop and equipment at all times, including, but not limited to, the following:
a) Secure your equipment in a safe place at the end of the day.
b) Do not leave the equipment in an unlocked car.
c) Do not leave the A/C adapter behind when moving the laptop or any other equipment that requires power.

SEPARATION

RESIGNATION AND EXIT INTERVIEW

Employees who intend to resign should provide at least two weeks written notice. CITS reserves the right to terminate an employee's employment prior to the employee's intended resignation date. If you resign in good standing under this policy, you will be eligible for reemployment for a period of up to six months from the last date of employment, with benefits tied to seniority reinstated in full. CITS will consider former employees for open positions along with all other candidates. Former employees who apply for reemployment after six months will be treated as new employees for purposes of seniority-related benefits.

Resigning employees must schedule an exit interview with the Partnerships Manager and COO to ensure that all organizational property is returned and to provide an opportunity to discuss any questions or concerns related to employment with the organization. Employees who fail to return any organization property including keys, swipe cards, cell phones, laptop computers and other equipment, will be deemed ineligible for rehire and may be subject to legal proceedings on behalf of CITS.

You should confirm your forwarding mailing address to ensure that benefits and tax information are received in a timely manner. CITS will mail your final pay to this address by the next payday unless state law or other procedures dictate otherwise.

BENEFIT OPTIONS AT TERMINATION

An employee terminating employment with CITS, voluntarily or not, is entitled to the following benefits:

- Conversion of medical and/or dental insurance to individual or family coverage through COBRA, if the employee qualifies for COBRA benefits.

FINAL PAY

Employees who leave the service of CITS for any reason shall receive all pay that may be due them with the following qualifications.

Departing employees will not receive pay for any unused PTO, which includes sick days, comp time, floating holidays, personal days.

The separation date for all employees is the last day of actual work and approved leave. Final pay received by an employee will not be construed to extend his/her employment with CITS beyond the separation date.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This is to acknowledge that I have received a copy of the CITS handbook. I have read and understand the information contained within the manual and agree to comply with all stated policies and procedures. I understand that employment at CITS is "at will" and terminable "at will" by CITS or me with or without cause. Any oral or written statements or promises to the contrary are not binding upon CITS. I understand that failure to adhere to these policies may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.
